TSA Security and Emergency Planning Workshop

at ABA's Annual Meeting & Marketplace

Tuesday, Jan. 30, 2018 | 8 AM - 12 PM | Charlotte, NC

Presented by the Bus Industry Safety Council

TSA will collaborate with the ABA to host a workshop designed to strengthen motorcoach community preparedness by helping companies develop comprehensive and tailored security plans using a TSA-provided Security and Emergency Plan (SEP) template. The workshop will incorporate a motorcoach-specific threat briefing from a TSA Field Intelligence Officer (FIO) and hands-on instruction on how to write a SEP based on the TSA template.

Workshop participants will develop draft SEPs with their company-specific policies, procedures, and information and incorporated TSA-recommended roles, responsibilities, procedures and best practices as needed. The workshop will introduce operators to new security considerations and protocols for their companies. The workshop format and the structure of the SEP template will allow operators to consider adding, adjusting, and elaborating on their existing security and safety plans. The structure will also allow for collaboration and sharing of resources and information among participants. Operators will share information regarding their best practices for circulating pertinent information to their employees (e.g., displaying NTAS bulletins on an employee break room table), required training, and physical protective measures.

Produced as one of three components that comprise the Transportation Security Template and Assessment Review Toolkit (T-START), TSA developed and designed the template to help motorcoach companies and operators develop effective security plans and activities based on industry best practices and requirements. The template combines emergency preparedness components and activities into a single document, and provides a foundation for companies and operators to develop tailored, company-specific security and emergency procedures. The TSA-provided SEP template includes the following sections:

Introduction and Company Overview | Management and Administration | Current Threats | Business Operations | National Terrorism Advisory System (NTAS) | Emergency Procedures | Communications Plan | Security Training | Drills and Exercises | Cybersecurity-Information Technology | Physical Security | Personnel Security | Vehicle Security | Chain of Custody | Additional Information Resource

This session is free and open to any attendee of the ABA Annual Meeting & Marketplace. Pre-registration is not necessary. Participants are asked to bring a laptop with them. A limited number of laptops will be available if you do not have one of your own.
